

Operational Performance Improvement

Our approach ensures that clients achieve sustainable competitive advantage

More

Turn-around & Restructuring

We think creatively and partner with clients to solve their toughest challenges

More

Process Improvement Services

Innovative approaches and tools for choosing suppliers and evaluating supplier risk

More

Supplier Related Services

Decades of experience with a fast and flexible approach targeted to your business needs

More

Click Here to Print PDF

The Allegiant Difference

Partnering with Allegiant can give your company the advantage of working with accomplished subject matter experts. Allegiant personnel and consultants have held senior management or executive positions in large Fortune 500 corporations, they have a lifetime of varied experience, and have worked extensively in most major regions of the world.

We are dedicated to sharing, teaching, and exchanging information on a variety of topics related to enhancing manufacturing capability, and helping individuals and their companies successfully compete in the global economy. Our personnel share the common objective of helping individuals and companies understand and apply the variety of tools and methodologies at our disposal. Typical engagements include:

- Operational Performance Improvement
- Turn-Around & Restructuring
- Process Improvement Services
- Supplier Related Services

Allegiant works with its clients so they understand how to more effectively use the tools we teach, and to keep the process of continuous improvement simple. The basic fundamentals of manufacturing have not changed much, despite the massive advancement of technology. To the contrary, the need to firmly understand these basic fundamentals and to keep the approach

Benefits & Highlights

Custom Approach

We partner with our clients to deliver customized solutions that resolve their most significant issues and create lasting competitive advantage. Utilizing decades of industry experience and functional expertise, Allegiant looks beyond standard solutions to develop new insights, mobilize organizations, drive tangible results, and make companies more capable.

Improving Performance

Allegiant does not believe in standard industry answers. We know that custom solutions yield the greatest opportunity for improvement and value for our clients. We ground each solution in how our client's organization actually works and in the client's unique position in the marketplace.

simple and straightforward is even more critical in the face of the challenges companies face in today's global economy.

Experience suggests that most manufacturing systems significantly underperform their true potential, and that achieving significantly higher levels of sustained performance need not be a lengthy or costly process.

Our services have value and can help you company in the journey to make your systems perform at their optimum, and to outperform your competition.

.....

Impact to the Bottom-line

In collaboration with each client, we develop new insights about the business, mobilize the organization to act, drive tangible bottom-line results, and make the client organization more capable.

learn more

.....

